Translator's Forum: Session 5

Pitchings: German language Children's and YA books

This session is addressing publishers and translators in the Asia Pacific Region – German language publishers will pitch outstanding new titles in their lists to interested publishers and translators in the region, in order to support and foster translations. Come and see (listen) for yourself! This session will be conducted in English. We look forward to seeing you there!

16 December
2021, 10 am CET

More pitchings to come

A set of new and attractive German literary titles will be pitched in 2022, and in the first half of 2022 we will also conduct a session in which translators from the languages in SEA will be pitching their favourite titles to German publishers.
